Global Short Fixed Income Fund Share Class: EUR Distributing Shares (ISIN: IE00B3QL0Y14)

a sub fund of Dimensional Funds Plc.

Objectives & Investment Policy

The aim is to maximize current income while preserving the value of investments.

The Fund is managed on a discretionary basis and invests in high quality debt such as bonds, commercial paper, bank and corporate debt with a maturity of five years or less. The Fund will generally maintain an average maturity of its investments to five years or less. This debt is issued by governments, other public bodies and companies from developed countries and, at the time of purchase, this debt is generally rated at least AA- or Aa3 long term by the major rating agencies. If the investments are downgraded below this level, they may be sold if in the best interests of the Fund.

The Fund may purchase debt in currencies other than the Euro and, where it does so, will use financial contracts or instruments (derivatives) to manage its exposure to these currencies.

The Fund may use derivatives to manage risk, reduce costs or improve returns.

Income is normally distributed annually.

You may sell your investment in the Fund on demand on a daily basis.

Risk and Reward Profile

The risk and reward category is calculated using historical data which may not be a reliable indicator of the Fund's future risk profile.

The risk and reward category may shift over time and is not a target or a guarantee.

The lowest category (i.e. Category 1) does not mean a risk-free investment.

The Fund is in Category 2 because of the low range and frequency of price movements (volatility) of the underlying investments referenced by the Fund.

The following are additional risks not covered by the risk and reward category.

The Fund may invest in tradeable debt (bonds), the return on which depends on the issuer's ability or willingness to make its payments. There is a risk that the issuer will fail to do so. Although the Fund generally invests in bonds with high ratings, these ratings are subjective and a high rating does not guarantee an issuer's ability or willingness to pay.

Tradeable debt (bonds) are interest rate sensitive, meaning that the range and frequency of price movements of the bonds may be significant due to various factors, including changes in interest rates, the creditworthiness of the bond issuer and the ease with which similar investments may be bought or sold (liquidity).

The Fund may use financial contracts (known as derivatives) for various reasons, including to try to reduce the effect of currency fluctuations between the currency of its assets and the currency of the share class, or to reduce the effect of market or interest rate movements (known as hedging). The effectiveness of any hedging strategy is not guaranteed to succeed and may prevent the Fund from benefitting from an increase in value of a particular currency. Derivatives can be a risky asset. They can be subject to risks such as counterparty, liquidity, interest rate, market, credit and management risks and improper valuation. The Fund, in turn, may be affected by this and the share price may fluctuate, which may result in a loss to the Fund.

The Fund may enter into various financial contracts (derivatives) with another party. There is a risk that this party will become insolvent or fail to make its payments which may result in the Fund and your investment suffering a loss.

Where the Fund uses futures or forward foreign currency contracts (derivatives), it may become exposed to certain investment risks including leverage, market, mismatching of exposure and/or counterparty risk, liquidity, interest rate, credit and management risks and the risk of improper valuation. While the Fund is not expected to have exposure to leverage to a material degree, any movement in the price of these investments can have a significant impact on the value of the Fund and the Fund could lose more than the amount invested.

More information in relation to risks in general may be found in the "Risk Factors" section of the prospectus.
